The Licensing Process

AN OVERVIEW OF THE APPLICATION AND EXAMINATION PROCESS TO BECOME A LICENSED VETERINARIAN IN THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO

A Brief Overview

Thank you for your interest in practicing veterinary medicine in the Land of Enchantment. We hope you will find this booklet useful and informative.

There are three application methods for becoming a licensed veterinarian in New Mexico: 1) Regular Licensure Process, 2) Licensure by Endorsement, and 3) 60-Day Temporary Permit. Please read the entire section for each application method before you decide which one is right for you.

Foreign graduates, those who have graduated from a non-AVMA-accredited school, must complete the Education Commission for Foreign Veterinary Graduates (ECFVG) program and submit proof of completion before applying for licensure in addition to other documentation as prescribed by regulation. The Program for the Assessment of Veterinary Education Equivalence (PAVE) is not accepted.

The New Mexico Veterinary State Examination (NMVSE) is administered Monday thru Thursday for a fee of $500. Please call or email the Board office when scheduling the examination.

The NMSVE is administered at a reduced amount annually in April for an examination fee of $300 (see Note below.)

To qualify to take the NMVSE on the regularly scheduled examination date, you must provide the following documentation.

- Current completed, signed, dated, and notarized application with desired examination date.
- Passport-type photo (color, head and shoulders).
- Notarized photocopy of your diploma (or letter from the dean for 4th year students).
- Application/examination fee (cash is not accepted; personal check, cashier's check or money order payable to Board of Veterinary Medicine). This fee cannot be refunded once your application has been processed. Additionally, the application/examination fee or a portion thereof cannot be applied toward your prorated first partial year licensure fee. (See First Partial Year under Other Considerations.) DO NOT INCLUDE THE LICENSE FEE; A PRORATED AMOUNT TO APPLICANT'S BIRTH MONTH WILL BE PROVIDED WHEN THE LICENSURE PROCESS HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

NOTE: An applicant needing licensure as soon as possible may request a special examination date for a fee of $500. This option is provided for those applicants who want to take the NMVSE before the next reduced-fee scheduled examination date in April.

Foreign Graduates

Documentation submitted by foreign graduates must be reviewed and verified on a case-by-case basis. The Board understands that not all foreign graduate credentials will fall within the normal standard for qualifying applicants to become licensed in New Mexico. To apply for licensure in the state, the ECFVG certificate indicating you have graduated the program must accompany the application. If the veterinary school is accredited by the AVMA, the ECFVG certificate is not required.

If submitting original documentation that is in another language, documentation must accompany a certified/notarized English translation of the documents stating that the accompanying translations are exact language translations.

The diploma and final official transcript are the primary means by which a candidate is deemed fit to apply for licensure to practice veterinary medicine in New Mexico. In cases where such documentation does not conform to the normal appearance, description, or content of a standard diploma or transcript, the applicant must obtain a letter from the AVMA/ECFVG program stating that the accompanying documentation is in fact equivalent to a standard diploma and transcript commonly held in the United States.

Regular Licensure Process

If applicant has received the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) or its equivalent in the last five years, and is a veterinarian who has less than 6000 hours of clinical practice experience in this same period of time, applicant qualifies for licensure by Regular Licensure Process. To become licensed, the following is required:

1. Pass the NMVSE with a score of 75% or higher. The examination may be taken in the Board office, a Board designated testing site or via internet as scheduled by Board office, mail is not supported; the examination is not open book.
 - a) The examination covers jurisprudence pertaining to the practice of veterinary medicine in this state (See Examination Materials). Examinees are allotted two hours to complete the examination.
 - b) To sit the NMVSE, applicant must be a graduate veterinarian or senior student of a veterinary school accredited by the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) and qualifying under Board rules.
2. Submit all of the following documentation (as described in part 2 of Board rules).
 - a) current completed, signed, dated, and notarized application;
 - b) notarized photocopy of your diploma from an AVMA-accredited veterinary school or for 4th year students, a letter from the dean stating that you are in good academic standing and expected graduation date;

- c) final official transcript sent directly from the school to the Board office;
- d) national examination score report i.e., North American Veterinary Licensing Examination (NAVLE)²;
- e) verifications of licensure from all states or jurisdictions in which applicant has been licensed or is currently licensed, whether licensure has long since expired or applicant did not practice there;
- f) one personal and one professional recommendation (on Board provided forms)

NOTE: Notarized application, fee and diploma are required to schedule an examination. Remaining documentation must be submitted within one year after passing the NMVSE. A license will not be issued prior to receiving all documentation to complete file and first partial year payment.

Identification bearing a picture is required to sit the NMVSE.

Examination Scoring and Reporting – Examinations are scored immediately following the examination and the candidate will be notified by email. Examination results will not be discussed over the phone. If an applicant fails the examination, applicant will have 20 days from receipt of notification to review the examination and answer sheet in the Board office. Examinations may be retaken (for an additional application/examination fee of $500) after review by applicant.

Post-Examination and Completion of the Licensure Process – A license number will be issued upon successful passing of the examination, submittal of all required documentation and the prorated first partial year fee. It is applicant's responsibility to ensure that the Board receives all required documents within twelve (12) months after passing the NMVSE. It is unlawful to practice veterinary medicine in the state of New Mexico without a license issued by the New Mexico Board of Veterinary Medicine.

Controlled Substances Registration – To prescribe or dispense drugs in New Mexico, a Practitioners Controlled Substance Registration number as well as a DEA license must be obtained. Prior to applying for this number, an active state veterinary license is required. The form can be obtained from the NM Board of Pharmacy (NMBOP). If you have questions regarding this requirement, call NMBOP at 800-565-9102.

NOTE: Regular Licensure applicants must have their national examination scores transferred from AAVSB to the NMBVM.

Licensure by Endorsement

An applicant may qualify for Licensure by Endorsement if:

- 1) applicant has been a licensed, practicing veterinarian for five (5) years immediately preceding application; and
- 2) applicant has acquired at least 6000 hours of clinical practice experience in that time, in another state or recognized jurisdiction.

The fee for Licensure by Endorsement is $500. An examination on jurisprudence pertaining to the practice of veterinary medicine is also required; however, national examination (NBE/CCT or NAVLE) scores are not required.

Examinations will be scheduled after application and fee have been processed. Examinations are scored immediately following the examination and the candidate will be notified by email. Examination results will not be discussed over the phone. If an applicant fails the examination, applicant will have 20 days from receipt of notification to review the examination and answer sheet in the Board office. Examinations may be retaken (for an additional application/examination fee of $500) after review by applicant. There is no reduction in application/examination fee if an applicant opts to take the NMVSE on the Board’s annual reduced fee examination date in May.

All other application/examination requirements and documentation are the same as Regular Licensure Process.

60-Day Temporary Permit

To practice veterinary medicine for a short time in New Mexico, applicant may apply for a 60-Day Temporary Permit. See Board rule 16.25.2.14. No examination is required; the application fee is $250. See matrix on page four for documentation required.

An applicant may want to seriously consider the benefits and constraints of applying for a 60-Day Temporary Permit. Sixty days is a very short period of time in which to practice. A temporary permit may not be renewed within a 12-month period from issuance without approval from the Board. Should an applicant realize that there is a need to work in New Mexico for an indefinite period of time; applicant will have to undergo the entire application process again and pay a new application fee. No portion of the 60-Day Temporary Permit fee can be applied to subsequent application for full veterinary licensure. A 60-Day Temporary Permit may not be used while an applicant awaits Regular or Endorsement licensure.

Application/Examination Materials

IN addition to passing the NMVSE, Table A lists required documentation required for licensure. The latest version of Adobe® Acrobat® Reader is required to download the materials.

Final Considerations

Stay in Touch – It is the applicant’s responsibility to inform the Board office of any changes of address or contact information.

Application/Examination Process Duration – Do not submit documentation prior to submitting the completed application and fee.

The period of time from initial application to licensure varies in length and depends on the amount of time it takes for the contacts, agencies, and institutions to send the required documentation.

First Partial-Year Fees – Prior to issuing a license, the prorated, first partial year licensure fee, which is based on month of licensure to birth month of licensee, must be paid. The Board office will provide the exact proration amount.

Licenses – licenses are processed and mailed the day of licensure. Licenses must be publicly displayed at all places of employment in New Mexico along with the license certificate signed by the Board Chair. Additional copies will be provided at no charge at licensee’s request.

Annual Renewal – To continue working in the state, the license must be renewed annually on or before the last day of licensee’s birth month. It is licensee’s responsibility to renew on time; failure to do so will result in late penalties. There is no grace period.

NAVLE Sponsorship – The Board provides sponsorship for the NAVLE for a fee of $65. Applicant must complete and submit to the Board, the Application for NAVLE Sponsorship form along with the sponsorship fee.

Board Website – Access everything you need at www.NMBVM.org to become a licensed veterinarian in New Mexico including all study materials for the NMSVE.

If you have questions, do not hesitate to contact the Executive Director.

²60-Day Temporary and Endorsement Permits – only a verification of licensure from the jurisdiction where the applicant is currently licensed is required.

³Board-set examination date – administered in April. Date changes annually; check Board web site for current date.

⁵The examination fee for licensure by endorsement is the same whether the examination is taken on a Board-set examination date or in the Board office. Contact the Board office to schedule the examination.

⁶60-Day Temporary Permits are limited to one per calendar year, and no more than two per individual, in accordance with 61-14-10 of the Veterinary Practice Act. Section 61-14-10 of the Veterinary Practice Act and 16.25.2.14 of the Board rules are not consistent with one another. In cases where the Practice Act and the Board rules contradict one another, the Practice Act shall be the authority.

*These documents allow applicant to sit for the state veterinary examination only; all documents required for licensure must be received by Board prior to issuance of license.
